CLASS ONE MEN MUST BE EXAMINED WITHOUT DELAY

The city exemption board has received notice that rules and regulations for determining the order of liability for service for registrants in Class 1, June, 1918, are being forwarded and that it is of much importance that they should be followed literally and expeditiously.

Chairman Heywood of the board, today announced that every Class 1 man in the city who has not already been physically examined should call at the board's office and get his physical examination papers and have himself examined immediately. This includes men of the second registration, most of whom, it is expected, will be in Class 1, and men who have recently been transferred to Class 1 from a deferred class. The law requires that all Class 1 men be examined immediately.

CANTEEN OPENED AT DEPOT FOR COMFORT OF SOLDIERS

The Red Cross canteen at the union depot was opened Sunday under the direction of Mrs. Joseph E. Wright, chairman of the canteen committee of the Weber county chapter of the American Red Cross, and this morning two workers were on hand to dispense cheer and comfort to transient soldiers or sailors.

The captain appointed, so that there will be one in charge of the canteen at the depot for each day, are Mrs. Douglas Watson, Mrs. Joseph L. Taylor, Mrs. Fred Clark, Mrs. Archie McIntosh, Mrs. Arnold Bowman and Mrs. Eliza McFarland.

The canteen is not yet completely arranged, but it has been opened and the workers are ready to do what they can to make the soldiers and sailors comfortable while they are in this city, directing them to the various clubs and explaining all points of the city, mailing their letters and providing writing material.

The canteen room at present is merely a raised-off space on the platform under the shed roof on the west side of the main building outside the lunch room. Mrs. Douglas Watson, assisted by Mrs. E. R. Fisk, was in charge of the work this morning.

Mrs. Watson stated that there were a number of things still needed to make the canteen what it should be, but that they could be supplied. They now have a desk, a table, some rocking chairs, settees, books, magazines, papers, candy, cigarettes and a number of other things to lend comfort to the men in service. A number of firms donated the above equipment and materials. Some canvas to make a more enclosed room is also needed and will be provided in some manner, it was said this morning.

KERENSKY TALKS OF RUSS TROUBLE

Tries to Describe Chaos in His Country and Exploiting of Ignorant Masses.

PARIS, July 8.—Ex-Premier Kerensky of Russia, in an interview by his fellow countryman Halperine Kaminsky, printed in the Excelsior today, gives his opinion on the subject of Japanese intervention in Russia more definitely than he had done heretofore. After attempting to describe the chaos now ruling in Russia where "every town and village has its soviet acting as it pleases without regard for the orders of the People's Commissioners and where all property rights have been abolished except for the Germans," M. Kerensky said:

"Understand our position. We have no prejudice against the Japanese people. They always have been loyal, even during our struggle in Manchuria, before the war and during the war, but that is not the question.

"It is the question once more of not playing the game of the Bolsheviks and their German protectors by giving them the opportunity of exploiting anew the ignorance of the Russian masses in making them believe the Japanese are coming to make war on Russia. Has not Trotsky said that of German and Japanese occupation he would prefer the Germans?"

The paving of North Washington avenue is still in doubt, although it was supposed some time ago that the matter had been definitely settled and that the work would have begun before this time.

Obstacles in the way to immediate paving of the street were brought to light this morning at the mayor's office at the city hall. The meeting was attended by the city and county commissioners, a number of prominent citizens and State Auditor Joseph Ririe, the latter being a member of the State Highway commission and its representative. Among the citizens present at the meeting were:

Charles Barton, president of the Weber club, O. J. Stillwell, secretary of the Ogden Publicity bureau, Ralph Bristol, capitalist, Wm. Craig, R. L. Porter, City Attorney W. H. Reeder, Jr., and City Engineer Joseph Tracy.

The points of issue were chiefly matters of legal opinion as to whether or not certain methods could be used in acquiring jurisdiction for the paving of the east side. It seemed to be the opinion of the city officials that single jurisdiction for the paving of only one side could not be acquired under the plan as proposed by the state road commission. And the road commission was apparently determined that only the contract for the paving of the east side would be proper this year.

The matter of paving north Washington avenue, from the Ogden river bridge to the north city limits, a little less than three miles, was referred to Mr. Ririe, as a member of the commission, with power to act. But Mr. Ririe explained that a resolution passed by the State Highway commission some time in May was the only authority under which he could act, as it was upon that resolution that the plans of the state commission had been made and under which he was empowered by the board. This resolution was so framed that it did not permit action as proposed by the Ogden city commission in a resolution and, according to the opinion of City Attorney Reeder, under the state law regarding such matters.

Commissioners Resentful. Mr. Ririe read the resolution of his commission and then stated that if there was any blocking of the measure, the Ogden city commission would be solely responsible. To this remark City Commissioners Chris Flygare and Miles L. Jones took immediate exception. Mr. Flygare said that the city commission was ready to proceed at any time the state highway commission would make a proposal under which the city commission could legally act. "It looks to me," added Mr. Flygare, as he addressed Mr. Ririe, "that you are simply stating your will, to proceed to proceed, but under plans we cannot accept within the law, in order to block the whole thing."

Commissioner Miles L. Jones also objected to Mr. Ririe's hint that the city commission was blocking the measure. "We are ready, not only ready, but eager to proceed just as soon as we can get a contract for the work unless the legal difficulties are taken care of so that a contractor would be willing to make a bid, and no contractor would bid on the work unless he knew the measure was valid and his warrants of pay safe."

After considerable discussion pro and con, a motion was made and the parties present voted on it, which provided that the state engineer, Ogden City engineer and the county engineer, the state attorney general, Ogden city attorney and the county attorney should all meet as soon as possible with the highway commission in Salt Lake in an effort to get the work started. Then another meeting will be held Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock in the mayor's office, which will be public as was the meeting this morning, to provide the means for going ahead with the work on one of several plans suggested this morning.

Two Proposals Made. Among the plans proposed is one to acquire jurisdiction of both sides of the street before proceeding with any other plan, in order that it will not be necessary to go over the same ground again when it comes time to pave the balance of the street. Another plan proposed by Ralph Bristol was to pave a strip 16 feet wide on either side of the center of the street this season and leave the center open the same as the paving on Twenty-seventh street, between Washington and Jefferson avenues.

One of Mr. Ririe's objections to paving this year was that the street car company had complained that for it to tear up tracks would be a hardship and it would be almost necessary for the company to take up its tracks if the east side is fully paved, as the west track is in the center of the street and the east track is east of the center. This was not stated as a specific objection but was hinted at when Mr. Ririe first began explaining the reason why the measure had been so long delayed.

Mr. Ririe also said that he had talked with a large number of the property owners on North Washington avenue and they were all against the paving this year. But Mr. Porter said he could not understand why, when a public mass meeting had been held in the city hall which was attended by a large number of the property owners, there was only one dissenting voice. And that one, Mayor Browning said, was not really against the measure. Mr. Ririe then qualified his statement by saying that he had talked to them before the mass meeting.

It is now believed that the obstacles are removed and that the meeting of the officials as agreed on this morning will result in eliminating such questions as are in the way of immediate prosecution of the work.

EX-SOLDIER HAS A PECULIAR MANIA

Ivan Baranoff, the Russian ex-soldier who was taken to the county jail yesterday suffering of dementia, has presented to the sheriff a strange case. Baranoff seems to be suffering of an obsession brought on through his military training.

After being placed in his cell yesterday afternoon, he assumed the position of a soldier at attention—heels together, chest out and shoulders back, hands straight at the sides, and held that position without change until 1 a. m. today. At that time fellow prisoners called the night guards and the Russian was forcibly relaxed and placed on his bed. He fell into a deep sleep and slept without moving a muscle for hours, a sleep of complete exhaustion.

Baranoff wears a uniform and is a good figure of a man. Relatives in Elko, Nev., have informed the sheriff that he belongs there.

DISTINGUISHED PARTY OF JAPANESE IS ENTERTAINED

The Japanese Red Cross mission, headed by Prince Yoshihisa Tokuwaga, who was accompanied on the mission by Count K. Katsu and other members of the Japanese National Red Cross association, was in Ogden several hours Saturday evening and the members of the party were entertained by a trip through the canyon to the city wells and later were guests at a dinner at the Weber club.

The entertainment for the party was furnished through the efforts of Dr. E. M. Conroy, chairman of the Weber County Council of Defense, O. J. Stillwell, Charles Hollis, Mr. Miles L. Jones, James Secow, and members of the local Red Cross.

The Japanese party departed for the Yellowstone after the trip through the canyon, this side trip being planned to show the royal party some of the scenes and wonders of America.

The party is on the way to Washington to study Red Cross methods in this country and will later go to France.

CONGRESS TO ACT PROMPTLY

President Will Be Authorized to Take Over Telegraph and Telephone Service.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Steps toward prompt action on the house resolution authorizing the president to take over the telegraph, telephone, cable and radio wires during the war were taken today in the senate. The interstate commerce committee held its first meeting on the legislation and Senator Pomeroy of Ohio called at the White House to assure the president that it would be expedited as much as possible.

Postponement of the strike of Western Union operators, senate leaders said, will not affect plans for prompt action. Considerable debate and a spirited fight is expected.

Called from South Carolina to take charge of the legislation, Senator Smith of that state, chairman of the senate committee, announced he expected vigorously to oppose to hold extended meetings. Such an investigation is unnecessary, he said. He favored having the committee act immediately on the resolution and make a report, favorable or unfavorable, to place the resolution before the senate. Other committee members, however, were insistent that hearings be held particularly to hear the representatives of the wire companies.

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 8.—Members of the Commercial Telegraphers' union of America who reported for work at the local offices of the Western Union Telegraph company this morning were told that the company had no further need for their services. Each operator as he reported was asked if he was a member of the union. It was said, and all replying in the affirmative were turned away.

More than eighty men who had been refused admittance to the Western Union offices gathered at union headquarters for a special meeting. According to their reports fewer than a dozen non-union operators were at work.

Operators Leave Keys. ATLANTA, Ga., July 8.—Thirty-two union telegraph operators left their keys at the local Western Union offices today before orders were received cancelling the strike call.

Incomplete Reports. CHICAGO, July 8.—Reports received by S. J. Konenkamp, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' union, indicated that lockouts and strikes account for the absence of 242 men from their keys in Western Union offices today. His reports were not complete.

From Atlanta, Ga., Konenkamp received word that 150 men were out there and at Savannah, Augusta and Jacksonville many of them looked out and others striking because of that fact. Twenty were reported out at Oklahoma City and it was rumored that ten had been locked out at Cincinnati.

Russia Facing Crisis

Formidable Uprising in Moscow and Bloody Fighting.

LONDON, July 8.—Fragments of news from various sources indicate that the assassination of Count von Mirbach, the German ambassador to Russia, was accompanied by a formidable uprising against the Bolsheviks in Moscow.

A Russian wireless message claims that the uprising has now been completely suppressed and the tone of the message indicates that the suppression was accomplished with sanguinary violence, the orders being that all who showed resistance to the Bolsheviks should be "shot on the spot."

The Bolshevik wireless agency circulated the following signed by M. Arloff, the chief Moscow commissioner: "The Social-Revolutionists, by fraudulent means, captured for a few hours a small part of Moscow and the German telegraph office whence they issued false reports of the suppression of the soviet in Moscow. I beg to announce that the mutiny was caused by a group of cheeky fools and was suppressed without difficulty by the Moscow garrison. The mutineers have been arrested and order has been restored."

Serious Counter Revolution. LONDON, July 8.—A serious counter-revolution has broken out in Moscow, according to a semi-official Wolff bureau telegram dated on Sunday from Moscow and transmitted to London by the Exchange Telegraph company's correspondent at Copenhagen. Fighting of great severity is taking place in the streets between the Bolshevik troops and Social-Revolutionaries.

Emperor Cuts Off Negotiations. LONDON, July 8.—As soon as Emperor William heard of the assassination of Count von Mirbach, the German ambassador to Russia, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Russia, he ordered Secretary von Kuehlmann to break off negotiations with the delegates in Berlin.

A strong guard has been placed before the house of the Bolshevik ambassador in Berlin as it is feared the populace of the capital will inaugurate anti-Russian demonstrations.

All the German newspapers declare the murder of Count von Mirbach must inevitably have a great influence on Russo-German relations.

Two Assassins Flee. AMSTERDAM, July 8.—According to a Moscow telegram to the Frankfurter Zeitung, the two assassins of Count von Mirbach fled after committing the crime to a building occupied by Social-Revolutionaries where they were being defended with machine guns.

It is declared that the assassination of the ambassador was to have been the signal for a revolt under the leadership of the Social-Revolutionists, but that this failed to materialize on the scale that had been planned.

It seems from this account that the fighting between Bolsheviks and Social-Revolutionaries reported taking place in Moscow was an outgrowth of the von Mirbach affair. The Frankfurter message from Moscow mentioned such fighting as taking place in various parts of the city where the dispatch was filed, but gave no details.
